POST

Snapchat...Instagram...Twitter...Facebook...students had more ways than ever to GET CONNECTED and stay in touch with friends. Whether making plans for Friday night or studying for an upcoming exam, students found themselves reaching for their phones more and more often to TYPE rather than to TALK about upcoming events.

Even so, nothing totally replaced daily, face-to-face interactions completely. Many students agreed with Charity Moser who said she "likes to hang out with friends rather than just talk over a screen." Students acknowledged that face-to-face communication allows them to read others' expressions rather than just their words, an important part of truly connecting. Even so, social media has been a reliable way to STAY CONNECTED when a face-to-face meeting just isn't possible.

Social media has become an important part of teens' social lives, and "screen time" is less and less about DISCONNECTING from the world and more and more about CONNECTING with those in it.

@2016Seniors#WeMadeIt!

Northern Garrett High School is proud to have had four wonderful years full of influential and talented students. Each student possesses the career-ready qualities that will take them far in life. Through the difficult levels of high school, the tiny freshmen you knew and loved have upgraded to fantastic aspiring seniors. Some have left their tracks, or paw prints behind, as successful Husky sports team players. Others have made their marks through the vast academic resources available at NHS.

Each and every senior has had his or her memorable moments throughout his/her four years of high school. Whether those memories bring smiles or frowns, they connect the students in a way that no other thing can.

These special moments will follow the students for the rest of their lives, as well as all of the prime knowledge acquired by these seniors.

This year, seniors enjoyed their final year filled with one last Homecoming, celebrations at senior nights, a final dance at prom, battles during War of the Classes, rides and amusement on their senior trip to Hershey Park, sports events and games, inside jokes in each of their classes, and days filled with friends and laughter. Each and every face will undoubtedly be missed.

Northern High School and its eminent staff and teachers have all put forth a contribution to prepare these students for their fresh careers and new beginnings. Congratulations!

Left: Seniors, Erin Osselburn and Robert Lawson await their fate for the blindfolded whipped cream feeding challenge during War of the Classes. One student was blindfolded and had to feed the other student the whipped topping. Needless to say, things got a little messy!

Top: The class of 2016 traveled to Hershey Park for their sweet senior trip. Seniors enjoyed a sugary day filled with fun, laughter, new memories and of course...chocolate! Hugs and kisses to these new graduates, and good luck in your pathways!

Alexandra Miller, Valedictorian, shared that to be successful, you must follow your dreams and indulge in them. Alex also invited a variety of students forward to speak about what they're passionate about in their lives. Andrew Haberkorn explained that he enjoyed his shop experience, and the ability to craft beautiful hands-on creations.

Valedictorian

Katherine Carpenter, Salutatorian, explained that although other people will push you to do your best, you have to make sure that you be the best you can for yourself as well. With a smile that could light up the world, Katie offered one last goodbye to NHS in her heartfelt speech.

Between welcoming the new, smiling faces of freshmen to the joyous sophomores and ever present juniors, NHS delivers sensational academic classes to contribute to the growth and development of these students. Teachers of all subjects pass each student along, filling their heads with strong knowledge and wisdom for new beginnings.

After taking their first baby steps into perseverance at NHS, the freshmen have adapted to their once confusing surroundings. By sticking to their true selves, and having a fresh start, there's no doubt that these first-year students will transform into heartwarming young adults.

Moving up on the ladder of high school, the sophomores took on 10th grade headstrong.

Wedged between the freshmen and juniors, these students poured their hearts out, working exceptionally hard in classes, and acquiring new skills. With all of this hard work, each student furthered his/her potential and abilities.

With senior year just around the corner, juniors strove to do their best to prepare for their futures and careers. Many of these students looked forward to receiving their driver's licenses, another step on their way to adulthood, along with filling out college applications.

The underclassman at Northern Garrett High School put forth extraordinary effort to reach their goals and dreams, achieving academic success along the way.

Left: Claudia Reynolds (9) and Jillian Wood (9) have a jam session in the music room during their piano class. All of the headphones are connected to individual pianos and linked to Mr. Salisbury's, so that everyone can focus on his/her own music. Classroom Connections

Students Share with Faculty and Staff

While friends are essential to a healthy social life, students found that also connecting with mentors among the faculty and staff was an important part of growing and maturing. From the school custodians and the cafeteria staff, to the nurses, administrative assistants, and teachers, students found ways to make lasting connections that would make a difference in their lives.

According to Robert Lawson, 12, Ms. Roller has made an impact on his life. "Ms. Roller is personable, so it's easy to talk to her because she listens without judging and keeps things confidential."

Mrs. Berger agrees that student/faculty connections are important, stating "I think it's important to make lasting connections with students. There are many students who I keep in contact with after graduation."

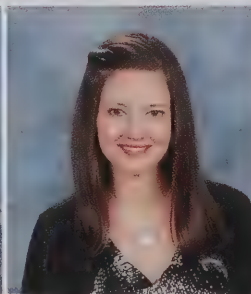

Cafeteria staff Ms. Long, Ms. Friend, Ms. McClintock, Ms. Hook, Ms. Fost, Ms. Glotfelty, and Ms. Dix are often the most popular staff members in the building as they students look forward to the hot breakfasts and lunches they provide. "I appreciate that Ms. Hook always posts news articles about students' achievements at the al la carte checkout. It's neat that she takes the time to recognize our accomplishments," said Jada Yorty, 10.

Events outside of school let students refresh their minds and have fun.

The fair is a great opportunity to hang out with friends over the nice, long summer break. Students show their animals, plants, vegetables, photos, and artwork, ride rides, play games and have a blast with their friends.

During Autumn Glory, the marching band performed in the parade, bringing smiles to any Beatles fans as they played some of The Beatles' more popular songs. JROTC also participated in the parade, leaving trails of respect and honor. There was something for everyone, including seeing who would be crowned the next FFA Farm Queen.

Events inside of school allow students to take a break from academics and indulge themselves in enjoyment with friends.

During Spirit Week before Homecoming, students were dared to dress up for the following days: career day, patriotic day, celebrity day, jersey day, and blue and gold day. On the night of Homecoming, students dressed in a rainbow of different colors and hit the New York-themed dance floor. #theDressWasObviouslyBlue AndGold

A few months later, an Under the Sea prom took place where couples who mermaid for each other danced the night away.

Inside and out of school, students have the opportunity to let loose and have fun.

Top: The Northern Garrett High School band performs songs from the Beatles in the performing arts parade in Walt Disney World. The students traveled to Orlando, Florida to show off their marching skills.

Left: Ronald Schartiger (10) lines up with nominee, Tiffany Warnick (12) for the Snowball court. Although she did not win, Tiffany still had a blast dancing away to popular songs with her friends at the Snowball dance.

Doris Jenkins, Nicholas Ahern, Miranda Rounds, and Emily Opel compete in showmanship, where they are judged on how they present their sheep, answer questions and maintain eye contact with the judges while they show their animals.

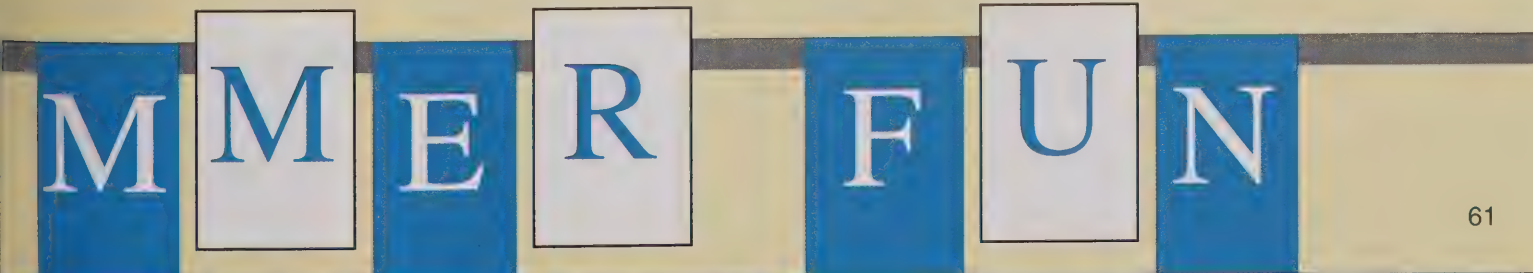

Emily Opel said, "the judge really liked the amount of muscle my lamb had. Because of that, I actually ended being awarded the title of Light Weight Grand Champion Market Lamb."

Nicholas Ahern placed fourth in market and Reserve Grand Champion overall in breeding. He has been showing pigs for four years and lambs for three years at the fair.

Jordon Grove has been competing in the pedal tractor pull since he was little; he has also won every year!

Juniors, Austin Evans and Kaitlyn Smith, work together as they dominate in the blind-folded, partner-feeding challenge.

Members of all five teams listen as Mrs. Berger explains the rules of competition. Each team wore a designated color; pink, freshman; green, sophomores; blue, juniors; black, seniors, and the teachers wore yellow and gold.

Clubs at NHS give students a chance to come together and achieve success to fuel their passions. They are a great opportunity to allow students to get connected with one another. With so many choices, each student can find the club where he/she best fits.

This year's clubs were offered as an everyday enrichment so that students could take a break to enjoy what they love. (Clubs permit students to have fun and not be keybored in study halls!) They can share what they like among others who have the same interests. This memes there are a lot of opportunities to add friends.

Brand new clubs were offered this year such as the NHS Morning Show and the Literary Art Magazine. These clubs gave students a chance to show their creative sides by covering school news and submitting writings to the school magazine. Another new addition to Northern High School is the FOR club. FOR stands for Friends Of Rachel and students enrolled in the club spread kindness and positivity through the halls of the school.

Academic structures are woven throughout the clubs as well so that students can learn new techniques and information. Student Council leads many of the projects and events held at the school.

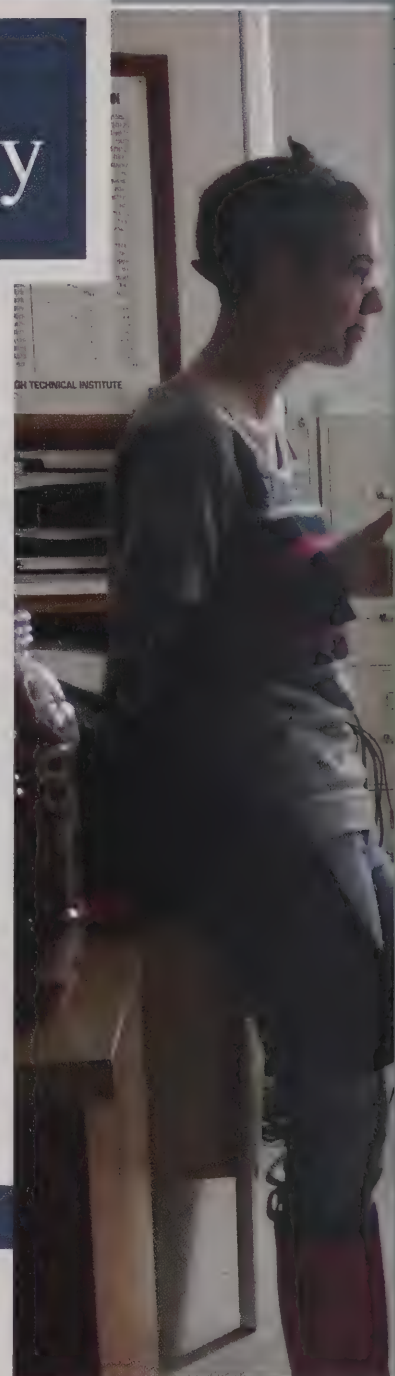

Through entertainment and knowledge, the clubs at NHS bring enjoyment to the students of all grades.

Top: Bailey Brewer (11), Robert Lawson (12) and Emily Werner (12) prepare to film a sports clip for the Morning Show. It can take anywhere from one to five "takes" to get a serious version of a clip since the entire crew has a blast filming.

Academics at NHS pave the way for the future of each student enrolled. The classes prepare students for what waits for them after high school, and encourages students to pick their career paths and develop life skills.

In core classes, students were challenged to test their brain power by filling their minds with influential knowledge. English required students to read advanced Facebooks and taught students the power of Instagrammar. Math classes taught the importance of numbers, equations, graphs, variables, Foursquares and other shapes, and mathematical information. The science side of NHS proved theories, dealt with biological natures and periodically performed labs and experiments. History lessons engaged students in the wonders of historical events and allowed them to appreciate the cool trivial facts.

The arts offered students classes to bring their creative sides to life. This gave them a chance to band together, act naturally and sculpt out their careers.

CTE classes allowed students to have a hands-on experience with technical education, and other classes learned lifelong skills. With a fulfilling educational system, NHS provided students with promising futures.

Ashton Chapman 12

How do you use technology to solve math problems?
"I use a calculator to solve math problems that I usually cannot do without a calculator."
What is the most common technology you use to solve math problems and why?
"I use a calculator to solve math problems because it is the most helpful technology for me to use."

9 Amber Jamison

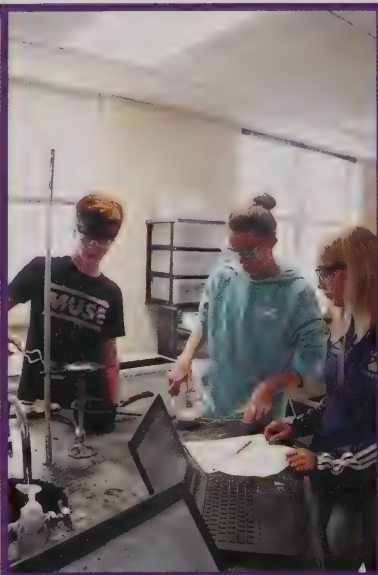

How do you use technology to solve math problems?
"I use technology to help me solve math problems that I cannot solve in my head."
What is the most common technology you use to solve math problems, and why?
"The most common technology I use to solve math problems is a scientific calculator. It helps with things you can not usually do in your head."

Elliott Schilpp 9th

What interests you the most about being in Ms. Logan's social studies class?

"Ms. Logan's class always challenges me to do my very best."

John Brenneman 11th

What preparations do you take to be the best you can be in social studies?

"I always have a pen because Ms. Logan requires work to be submitted in ink. I always take notes in class, since we are expected to use them every day."

10th Savannah Lewis

What makes you try your hardest in Mr. Opel's class?

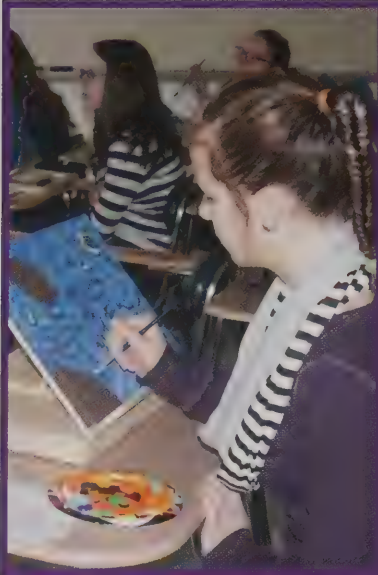

"What makes me try my hardest in his class is the fact that I am interested to be a part of our government. This interest pushes me to pay attention, take notes, and study before tests."

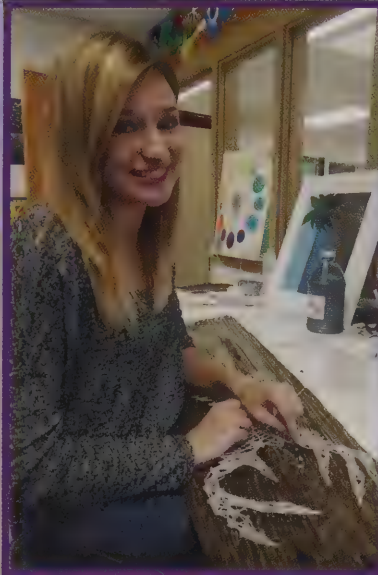

Tenth graders Stephanie Bryner, Savannah Lewis, and Leighanna Wilhelm play a review game to get ready for their history test.

Ninth grader Emily Brobst works on a poster about the Republican and Federalist parties, political parties studied as a part of United States history.

In Mrs. Kirchner's paint club, Hailey Moore, 9, creates a work of art through step-by-step acrylic painting techniques found online.

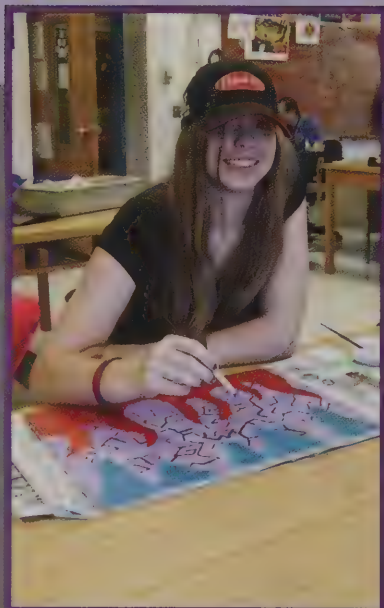

Michaela Vitez, 12, an advanced studio student, works on a deer picture made from ropes and pinnings.

Jenna Ruggiero, 11, displays her finished clay project. Carefully shaping and selecting colors for their work allows students to express their individuality.

What's on your MIND?

Senior, Andrew Haberkorn presents his clay cup before it's finished with a nice glaze.

11 Bailey Brewer

How is Art I different from Art II?

"Art II is a lot more advanced than Art I. Art I is about learning the fundamentals of art, while Art II is about applying them."

Gracie Metts 9

What was the hardest project that you did this year?

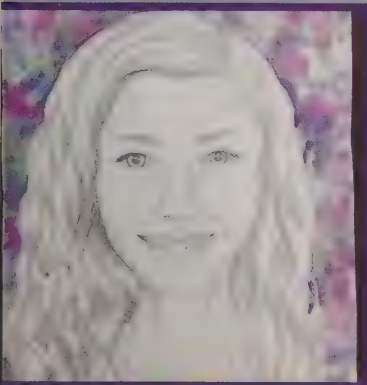

"The hardest project was when I had to make a word out of the same theme of the project."

Gabriella White 11

What's your favorite part about art club?

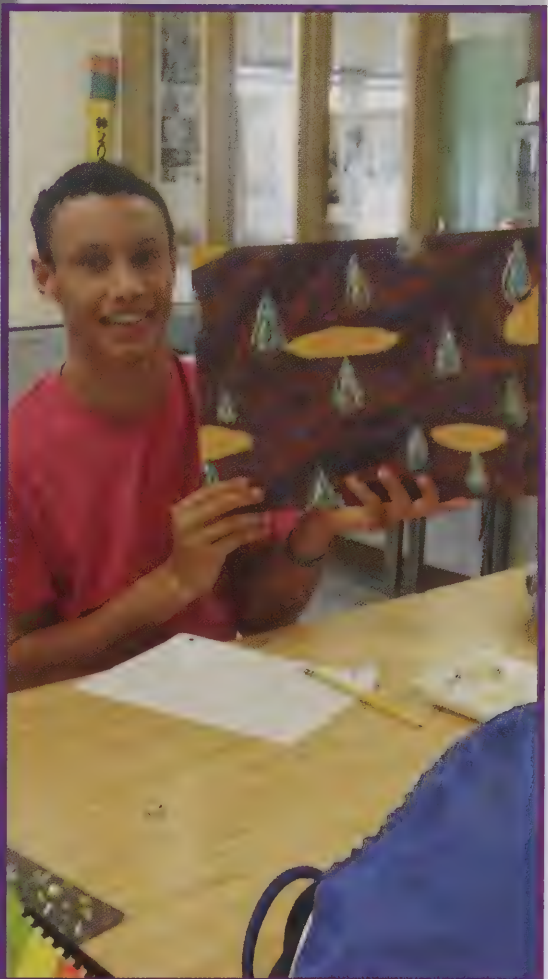

"The best part about art club is getting the chance to discuss ideas for projects with my best friends and build my art skills because of it."

9 Casey Rounds

Do you find painting easy or difficult and why?

"I sometimes find it challenging just because I really want it to be perfect, but I also find it easy because I've been painting my whole life."

Calyb King 11, smiles as he displays his acrylic painting demonstrating "rhythm", a design principle in ART II class.

Chorus members, Rachel Bowser, 11, Tiffany Hutzel, 12, Allyson Faner, 12, and Cheyenne Garrett, 10, prepare to begin class with some warm-up vocals.

Coralee Cherry, 10, and Mr. Salisbury work together in piano class to produce beautiful music.

#chorus

Justin Hershberger, 11, and Eric Guthrie, 12, warm up their voices at the beginning of class. Proper warm-up ensures a clear voice.

What's on your MIND?

Sammy Walling 12th

How many instruments do you play? Why do you want to play these instruments?

"I can play clarinet, bass clarinet, and a little bit of trumpet. I play these instruments to not only challenge myself but also to entertain people through various pieces of music."

Coralee Cherry, 10, carefully plays the piano, taking time to strike each key with precision. In Mr. Salisbury's piano class, students learn how to play different scales and songs.

Tiffany Hutzel 12th

What is your favorite part of chorus? How many songs and warm-ups do you do each day?

"My favorite part of chorus is the competition trips we take. We're performing three songs at Disney this year. Songs vary from traditional jazz to folk songs like "Shut De Do," a song we sang my freshman year that I really enjoy singing."

Bethany Hershberger 11th

What is your favorite part about piano class? How many scales did you learn so far? Do you think you would continue taking piano lessons and why?

"My favorite part about piano is being able to learn new music at my own pace. We learned D,A,B,E flat, A flat, C, and E. I would definitely continue with learning the piano. This is actually my second year taking the class. I love the way the piano sounds and hope to get better in the future."

Jillian Wood 9th

When does piano club meet? How long have you been playing piano?

"Piano club meets on Fridays during enrichment. I have been playing the piano since I was five years old, so I guess that makes it almost ten years."

Stefan Hoffmann, 10, Ronald Schartiger, 10, and Riley Brick, 11, march with precision while performing "Hey Jude" during their field show.

In full green zombie attire, Sally Bittinger, 10, shocks the students of Enrico Fermi High by returning from the dead. What a blast from the past!

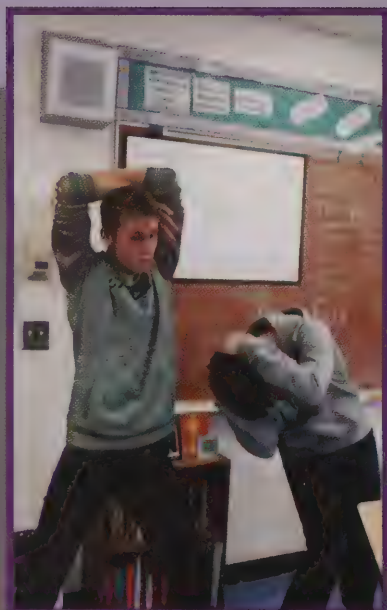

Bailey Brewer, 11, starring as Lionel, tries the glass slipper on the evil stepmother's foot, portrayed by Helen Friend, 11.

What's on your MIND?

Cassidy Murphy 10th

How many retakes do you do before you put the full morning show videos together?

"It depends on the day and the segment; sometimes we speed through, but other times we run over. Every show is unique."

Moriah Fornof 10th

Was this your first year behind the scenes? How did it feel and what skills did you acquire?

"I'd been in Garrett County MTL last year, but this was my first year behind the scenes and it's so rewarding to paint and build the set. I can't wait to do things like this for the rest of my life. I've become expert in running around making sure everyone knows what they're doing."

9th Cheyenne Bagley

What class projects do you do? What is your favorite and why?

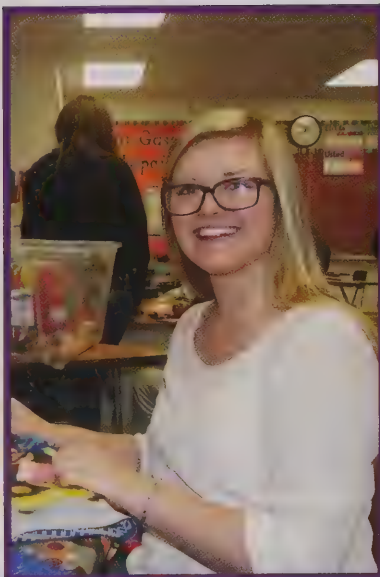

"The major project we do is putting on a play. This year, the play is full of education for both the audience and the actors. This project is my favorite because it lets me experience the new situation of acting."

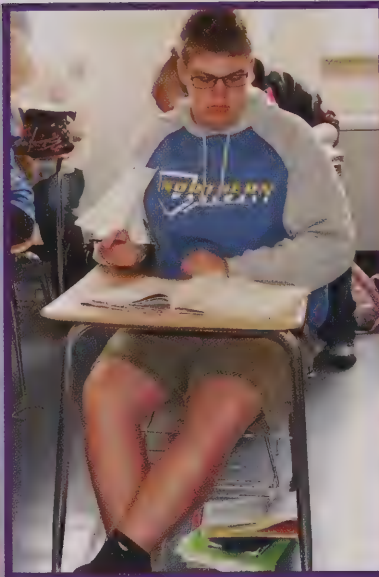

Alexandra Miller, 12, and Gabriella White, 11, both as the main character, Cinderella, use a shimmering glass slipper to give Prince Charming a call. It was impossible not to love these quirky characters played in the show!

Madison Dolchan, 11, and Sally Bittinger, 10, share a loving moment onstage during the production of Zombie Prom. Easy to say that Jonny and Toffee are as boundless as the heavens and eternal as the soul. Case closed!

Mariah Riley, 11, helps make the stockings during Christmas time for the Nuestro Mundo club to raise money for the Toys for Happiness program.

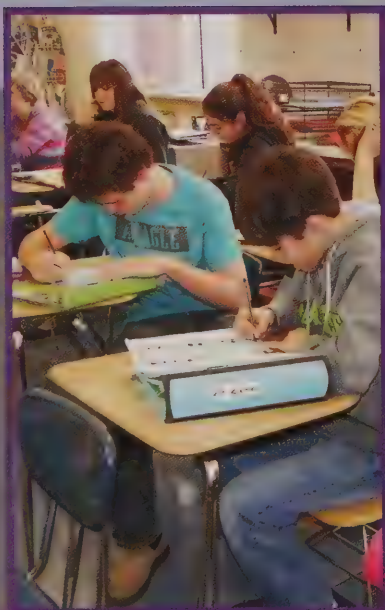

Eli Eggleston, 10, works on his assignment in the book for his Spanish II class.

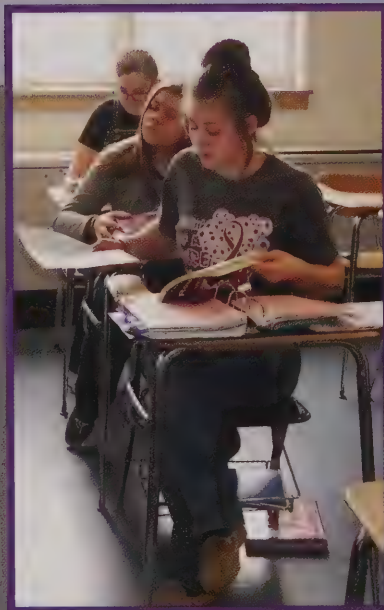

Mrs. Savage gives her students the opportunity to go on trips around the world. This summer, she and her students, Alexandra Miller, 12, Kylie Frantz, 12, and Katie Carpenter, 12, took a trip to Peru.

Jacquelyn Morgan, 10, works on her assignment out of the booklet for her Spanish II class.

#SpanishI

Terilyn Barnes, 9, checks over her answers while Mrs. Graham gives the class the correct answers.

What's on your MIND?

12th Brady Bittinger

What do you enjoy most about learning a foreign language?

"Being able to speak in a different language and actually knowing what I'm saying."

Faith Parandamia, 10, helps the Nuestro Mundo club make stockings to raise money and give back to the community.

Mariah Riley 11th

Why is learning a foreign language important?

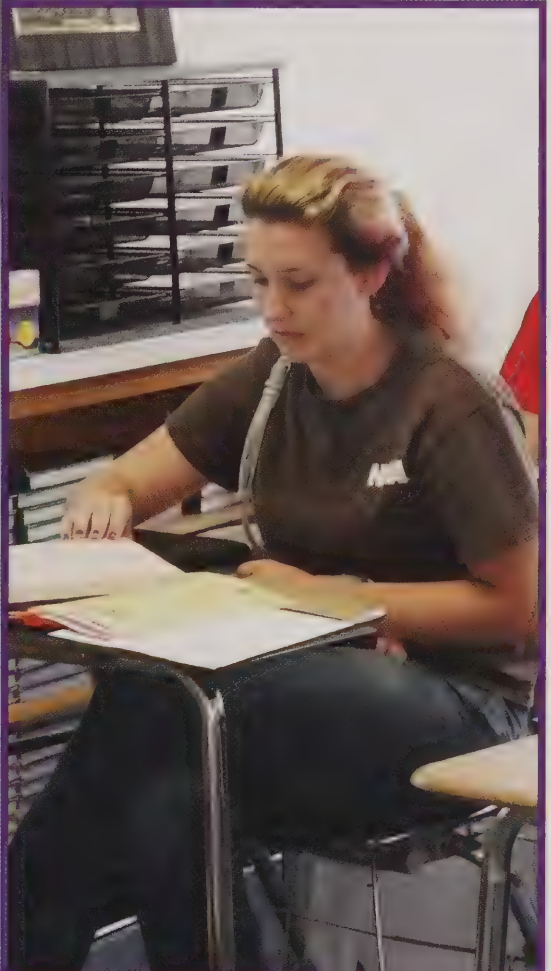

"Learning a foreign language is like learning a new culture, which allows people to connect and communicate with people from different countries."

Angie Wiland 10th

What has been the most difficult part of learning Spanish?

"The most difficult part has been remembering all 'los números'."

Alana Harman, 10, checks her assignment. Learning a foreign language can be difficult, so double checking the answers is an important strategy to success.

10th Sara Carr

Why is learning a foreign language important?

"Since there are more Spanish speaking people in society, so learning their language can give you an advantage in your career."

Douglas Schmidt, 10, plays coneball by trying to knock over the ball on top of the cone.

Students work hard on their poster projects for their health class.

Angelo Ruggiero, 10, plays tennis in gym class. Although Angelo likes playing tennis, he "the most interesting activity in P.E was ping-pong, the game of kings."

Students stand at the half court line in preparation for their warm up activity.

What's on your MIND?

9th David Mock

"Physical education is awesome because it gives me some free time."

The students group together to figure out a strategy to win the game of coneball.

Sydney Glotfelty 9th

"Physical education is a great class because it keeps us healthy and fit."

Zachary Arnold 9th

"Physical education is the best class because I get to move around and not just sit all day."

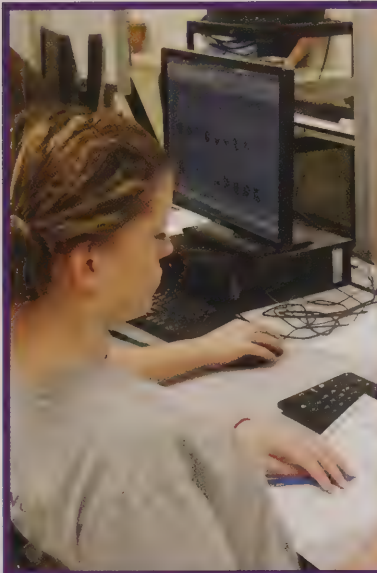

9th Casey Rounds

"P.E. is the best class because it doesn't give me a lot of work and it gets me more in shape."

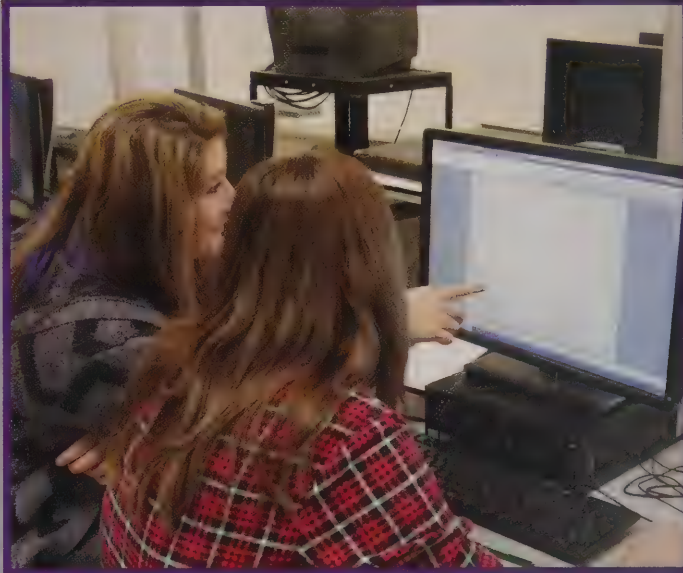

Kiana Yutzy, 11, and Jonathan Gordon, 10, prepare for the volleyball to be served over the net. Volleyball was one of the most popular units in P.E.

Ally Kisner, 9, works in Inventor with 3D objects. Inventor teaches students how to change many shapes into everyday objects.

Robert Bittinger, 11, controls the robot he constructed in engineering class. This is a project that many students enjoy doing.

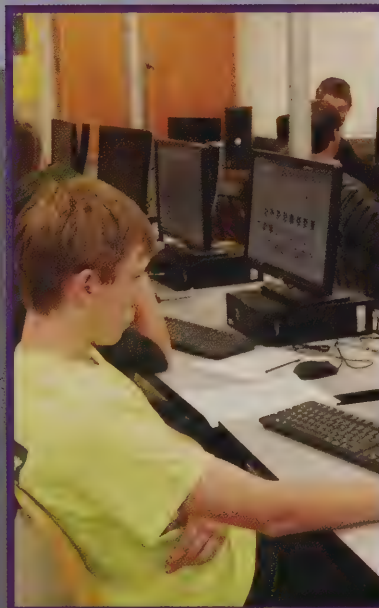

Emma Broadwater, 9, and Hannah Fuller, 9, work together on a group project in their Introduction to Engineering Design class (IED). All students are required to take this class; it helps to inspire students to become future engineers.

#mindyourownbusiness

#robots

Dawson Beitzel, 11, inspects the robot he just finished building. Students are given many opportunities to work with various aspects of technology throughout the year.

#inventor

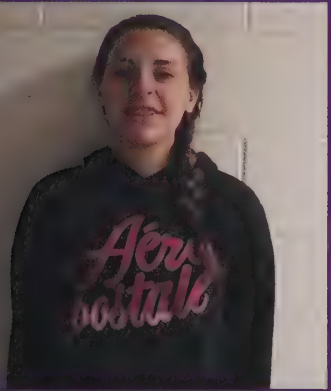

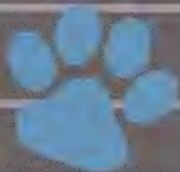

Anthony Glotfelty, 9, works with a program called Inventor. Inventor is a program that teaches students aspects of engineering.

#electronics

Mr. Kirchner reviews Bradie Moore's, 9, work which he completed during class. Teacher feedback is helpful for students.

What's on your MIND?

9th Amber Jamison

How many class projects have you done?

"We have completed four projects so far."

What was the hardest project you've done?

"The hardest project I have completed is the train project in Inventor."

Mr. Kirchner helps Ellie White, 11, and Alex Miller, 12, on a project that they are doing on the computer. Teacher assistance is necessary on challenging projects.

Casey Rounds 9th

What skills have you learned in IED?

"I enjoyed meeting new people and learning new things. It was challenging for me to learn something I've never worked with before. I learned how to work with other people, which helped me with my social skills, and my fear of presenting."

Eli Eggleston 10th

What is your favorite part about Mr. Sisler's engineering and technology class?

"My favorite part of Mr. Sisler's class was seeing and using all the machines."

What interesting facts or skills have you learned?

"I have learned how to program a couple of machines that I have not used before."

Mr. Sisler teaches his class about how the mechanical arm functions. The machine is able to do many unique things and is very helpful in assisting students in many projects.

12th Andrew Haberkorn

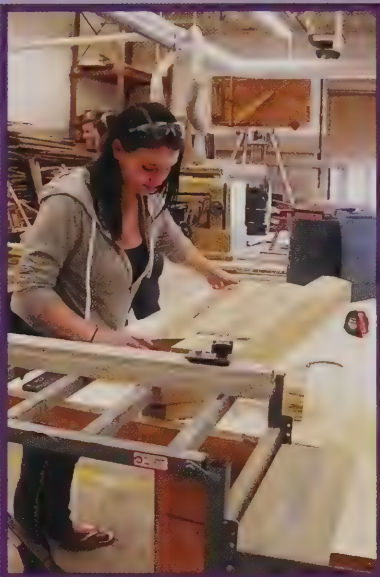

What is your favorite part about Mr. Sisler's class?

"My favorite part of class was building with Fisher Tech software. I could create almost anything. I learned how to use the 3D and laser printers. That was pretty cool."

Caleb Barclay, 10, works hard on the storage shed that he is building for JROTC.

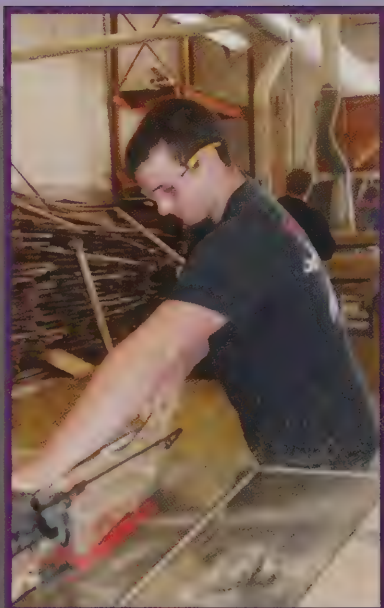

Mariah Griffin, 11, cuts all of the wood that she will need to build a picnic table, which will be sold to the public.

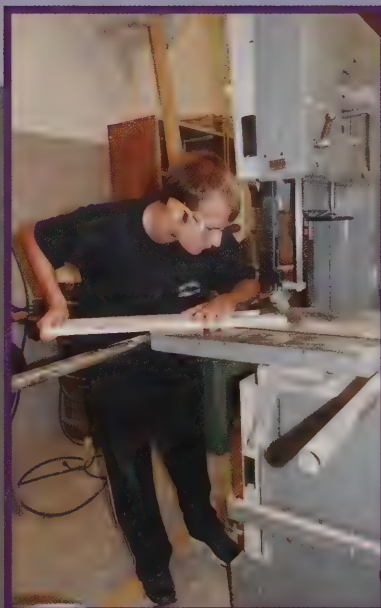

Zach Bittinger, 12, and Peyton Carr, 9, demonstrate knowledge and skills related to types of construction, hand tools, site conditions, construction materials, and safety on the job.

Jacob Toothman, 11, works on the sideposts that he is constructing for a gun rack that he will sell to the public.

#carpentry III

Junior Kiana Yutzy demonstrates the skills related to blueprint design, level instruments, and operation of construction.

What's on your MIND?

Brody Collins 10th

9th Peyton Carr

What was your favorite project you completed this year?

"My favorite project that we did this year was when we built the picnic tables because it was fun, and I loved seeing Zach get mad when we messed up."

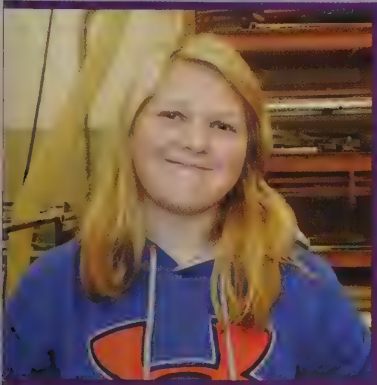

Brody Collins, 10, works on his engraving project that he designed. Later, he will personalize the board with a unique design.

Hannah Silbaugh 9th

What is your favorite part about carpentry?

"My favorite part is learning how to use all the new tools in order to build things."

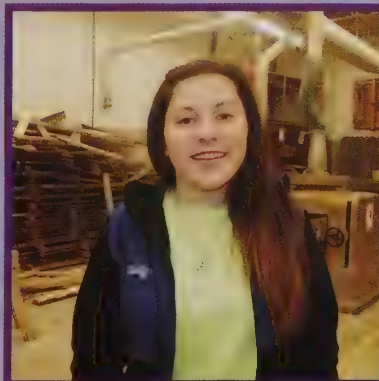

10th Cassidy Overstreet

Where will you use carpentry skills in the real world?

"I could use them for when I get older to build a house and to build projects with my kids."

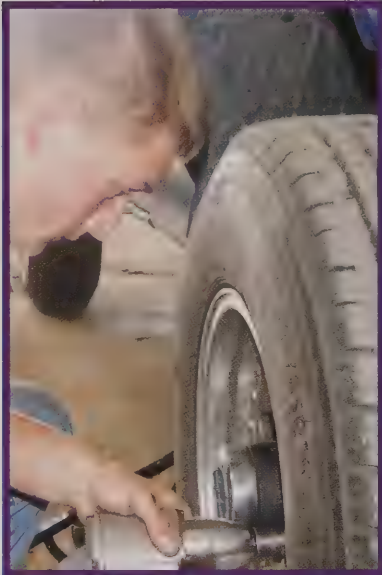

Hannah Silbaugh, 9, works on practicing and getting used to the power tools so she can start working on bigger projects.

How is technology making carpentry easier?

"Technology makes carpentry easier because batteries now have a longer span of life, and it is easier now to work the saw stoppers."

Cordale Miller, 11, completes a break check on a truck. This skill is useful in every day life.

Shay Shumaker and Michael Rodehaver, seniors, work in the shop as a part of their machine tool class. The shop provides an opportunity for students to apply skills learned in the classroom.

Kirkland Schroyer, 12, and Tristin Hobell, 10, adjust the lugnuts for safety before taking the vehicle out for a drive. Safety procedures are always stressed in the auto mechanics shop.

#drivingintothe future

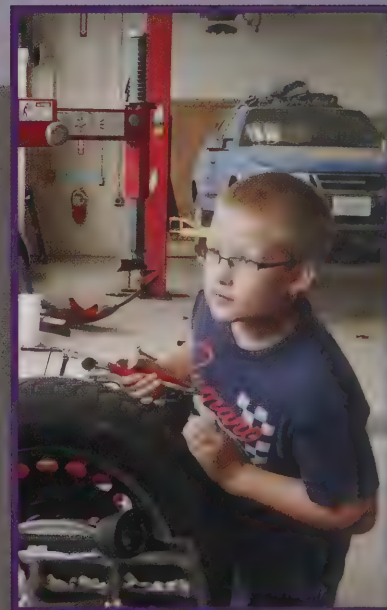

#automechanicsIII

Groups of students work together to repair an engine. In addition, they learn communication skills, a key element to a successful career in auto mechanics.

#automechanicsII

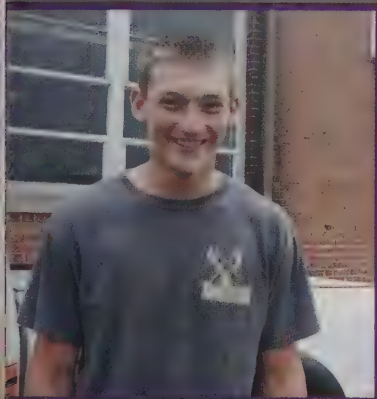

Jordan Hetz, 11, mounts a tire onto a rim. Students frequently mount and balance tires and complete other repairs for customers from the community as a part of this course.

#automechanicsI

Freshman Steven Troxell consults a model while he works on balancing a tire. Students learn to use instructional diagrams to ensure accuracy with repairs.

What's on your MIND?

11th Cordale Miller

What was your favorite part of auto and why?

"I get to work on new stuff and learn new stuff."

Hunter Burow, 12, welds two pieces of material together. Machine Tool III introduces more advanced machine operations to help people get into the field of working with tools.

Tylor Thomas

11th

What was your favorite part of auto and why?

"You don't just sit in a desk all day."

Justin Wilhelm

11th

Why do you like the Auto and Machine Tool classes?

"They both teach you life skills that will potentially help me in the future."

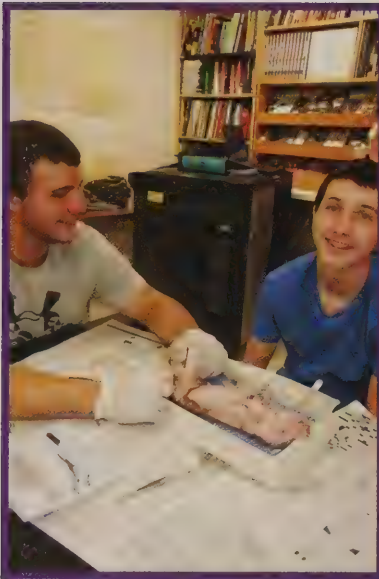

Colby Lowdermilk, 9, stencils in an outline for a design that he plans to cut with a plasma cutter.

12th Rachel Wiley

What is your favorite part of working on a car?

"My favorite part is knowing how to work on a car and not having to pay someone to fix it."

Christopher Marple, 12 and Michael Rodeheaver, 12, dissect a pig in Ms. Yost's animal science class, which helps them learn more about the anatomy of the animal.

After buying chicken eggs, Ms. Yost's animal science class raised them to hatch as little chicks so they can sell the eggs the chickens will produce.

Mr. Sisler's AG mechanics class plows up the field outside so that they can plant crops there next year.

#agriculture

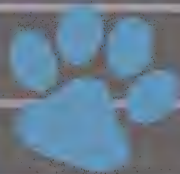

Carley Sisler, 12, works hard on a new Christmas wreath, which will be sold as a fundraiser for Ag.

#animalscience

Miss Daisy, the classroom pet, shows how much dedication it takes to take care of an animal in the animal science class.

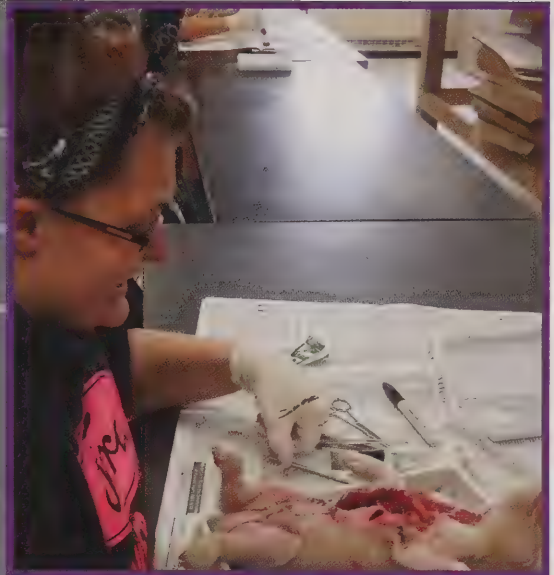

What's on your MIND?

11th Adam Crayton

What is your favorite part about AG and what did you learn?

"My favorite part about AG is learning about natural things and what makes agriculture so big in our society. I also learn where our food supply comes from and how to care and work on things and animals."

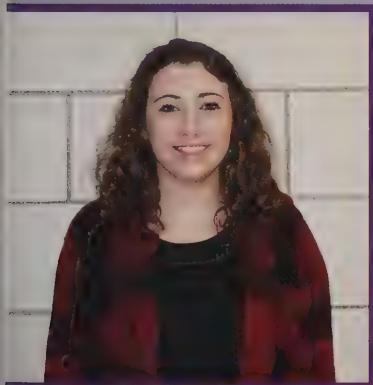

Sabrina Silbaugh, 12, dissects a baby pig with her partner in animal sciences. Learning the body parts and their function is an important skill for the raising of livestock.

Ashlyn Stakem 11th

How will AG class help you for the future?

"AG class will help me in the future by giving me background information that I can use for future refines when I go to college to become a vet."

Andrea House 11th

Do you like doing all of the class projects and why?

"Yes I really enjoy all the class projects that we do because Ms. Yost makes them fun and easy to understand."

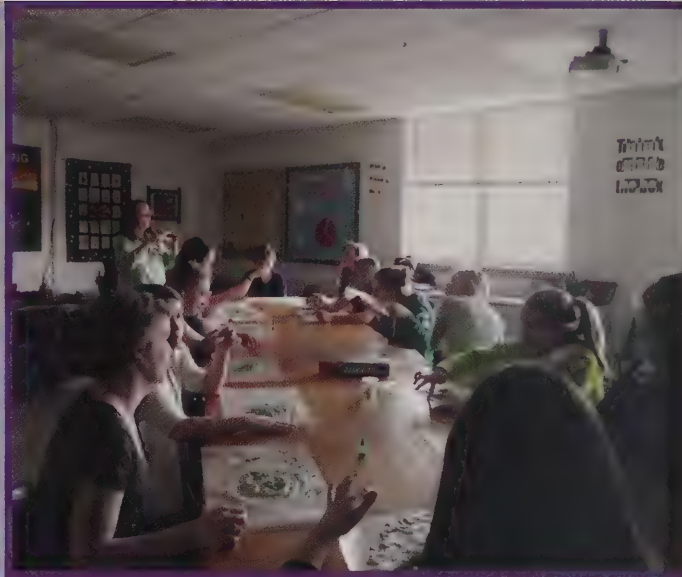

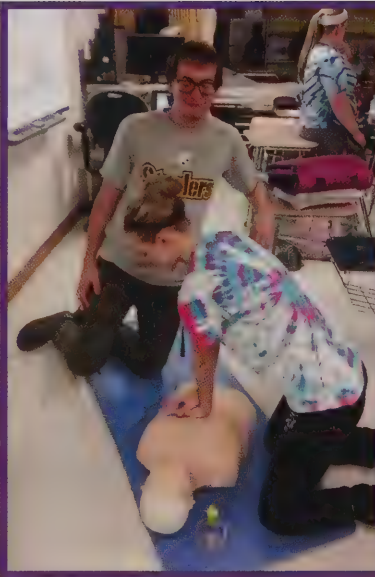

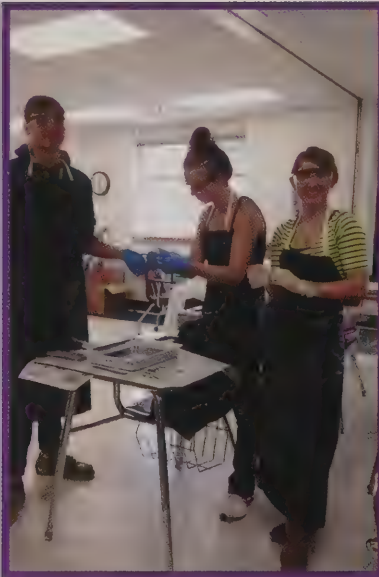

Ian Tice, 9, molds a piece of wood to make a stool in Ms. Yost's fourth period class.

10th Sara Carr

What do you think about the new class pet and what kind of care does she need?

"Miss Daisy is a fun part of AG. She needs food, water, treats, a clean pen, and housing, along with lots of attention."

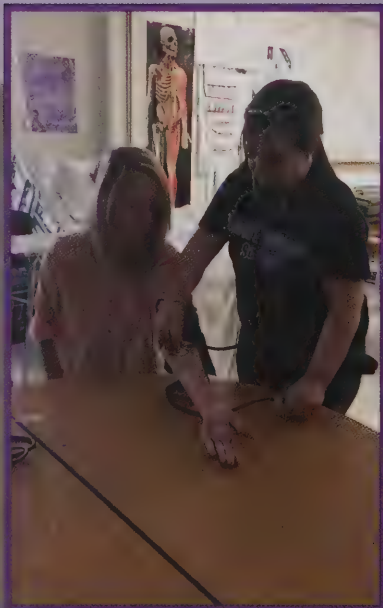

Robert Lawson, 12, Taylor Carr, 12, and Kassidi Paugh, 12, work together on dissecting a pig. This skill could be useful if students plan on becoming a surgeon of any type.

Hunter Mallow, 12, and Delaney Friend, 12, take turns practicing CPR on a dummy. Students can now use this skill in emergency situations.

Child Care students learned to make pudding for a hands-on activity to use when working with children. Students learn that keeping little hands busy keeps little ones happy.

Abby Yutzy, 12, and Kylie Frantz, 12, show teamwork skills as they dissect a cow's eyeball.

What's on your MIND?

Child Care

Sabrina Silbaugh, 12, works on her project to put in order the life cycle of a caterpillar. Young children enjoy reading and learning about various animals, and then enjoy a hands-on activity.

Kendra Friend, 11, Olivia Bennett 11, Rebecca Meyers, 11, and Cevana Miller, 11, work on a metamorphosis project.

Child Care

Morgan Sechler, 11, and Kayla Patton, 11, hold up their fish that they painted as part of a project presented by a guest speaker.

Allied Health

Kylie Frantz, 12, places a gait belt on Abby Yutzy in order to practice safely moving unsteady patients from a bed to a wheelchair. "Learning the skills to become a CNA will help me in the future as I advance in my career," said Kylie.

Allied Health

Heather Frazee, 12, practices taking Taylor Carr's blood pressure. Taking blood pressure is one of the first skills students practice in Allied Health and will likely be one of the most frequently used as a part of their future careers.

Morgan Carr, 11, enjoys the fun activity of drawing in the pudding for her childcare class. This activity teaches dexterity skills to young children.

The girls' cross country team warms up for the varsity race at the first meet of the season at Clear Spring. The team always walks the course and stretches before each meet.

Saylor Wampler, 12, Robert Walker, 11, and Kyle Klotz, 12, pass two Bishop Walsh runners at the Husky Invitational meet. Northern placed first out of the seven teams competing in the meet.

Michaela Vitez, 12, increases the gap between herself and her opponents as she moves toward the finish at the Husky Pride Classic, the first home meet since 1996.

Ava Roberts, 10, Lindsay Brewer, 9, and Allison Paul, 12, do a successful job of grouping together as they run the Boonsboro Invitational race.

Cayleb Barclay, 10, makes a smooth pass around a curve at the Mountain Ridge Invitational.

Saylor Wampler, 12, puts on his game face and pushes through the pain to reach the finish line.

Kylee Peck, 10, pushes herself ahead of her opponents and paces herself, despite her injury. Kylee placed in the top ten at the Mountain Ridge Invitational.

Shoutout!

How does it feel to know that this is your last year as a part of the Northern Cross Country team?

The girls' varsity team meets with Coach Hawkins before running their first race of the season at the Clear Spring Invitational. They consult with him to get feedback, to seek advice, and to hear one of his famous inspirational speeches.

The boys team ranked fifth place at the Region Meet, and seventh place at the State Meet at Hereford High School in Howard County. Robert Walker placed 13th at Regionals, and 23rd at the State Meet.

The girls' team won four meets this year: The Mountain Ridge Invitational, Broadford Invitational, Pumpkin Run, and the Husky Pride Classic. The girls team had not won a meet since 1995!

The Husky Pride Classic was the first meet Northern High School has hosted since 1996.

The girls placed third at Regionals, and third place at the State meet, which is the best finish the team has ever had!

Tiffany Warnick placed 10th place at Regionals; Michaela Vitez placed 12th, and Faith Parandhamaia placed 15th.

At the state meet, Tiffany Warnick placed 11th; Faith Parandhamaia placed 15th; Michaela Vitez placed 16th, and Kylee Peck placed 21st.

This year was a rebuilding year with new players on the course. Senior, Hunter Mallow led the field with an average low score of fifty-one. Also sophomore, Lance Smith was close behind him with an average score of fifty-three. Golf matches were played all over the area, including Fantasy Valley, Cumberland Country Club, Polish Pines, Canaan Valley, Valley View, Oakland, and Fore Sisters Golf course. The County Championships were played at Thousand Acres. Northern's team recorded a loss against Southern. Although ninth grader Breana Burke joined the team late in the season, she shot a low round at The Cumberland Country Club course and at Thousand Acres. Breana Burke won the girls individual competition at Black Rock, shooting a low score of eighty-one, which advanced her to the state competition at University of Maryland Golf Course. She missed the cut for day two of the final match by two strokes. The team only recored three victories this year, mainly due to lack of players, but they had a great time putting away the time!

According to Coach Lais, "finishing out the season with a 6-8 record, the work ethic within the team was fantastic. Despite our record, the guys kept on working hard with a lot of quality leadership. The boys finished a good season with a win over Southern and two of our losses to Allegany. The team executed amazing game plans and never lost faith in what they were trying to do, regardless of the results, and what they lacked in physical and technical ability, they made up for by supporting one another and sticking to what they were told to do. Over and over again, I saw guys stepping up and leading in moments where it was crucial both in games, training, and pulling together and offering a word of encouragement. This team, game in and out, played about as well as they could have. It is unfortunate a few more of the close games did not result in wins."

Jinny Warn, 11, and Emma Edwards, 12, celebrate with each other after scoring a goal against Keyser. They support their team by cheering them on when they aren't on the field.

The girls soccer team breaks their huddle with an enthusiastic cheer, hoping to win their game. Kyndal Rayner repeats the famous slogan "There's no 'I' in team," to illustrate the importance of preparing to work together before a game.

Carly Rodeheaver, 10, greets Haley Ross at a game held in her honor. Although Haley was unable to be in on the field with her teammates this year, she remained in each of their hearts.

Jinny Warn, 11, kicks the ball up the field to another teammate as she passes her opponents.

The Lady Huskies Varsity soccer team enjoyed a successful season with a record of 12-3. All the losses came against Mountain Ridge: twice in regular season and in the section final game in the Maryland State Playoffs; however, all three games were very close. Sophomore goal keeper, Carly Rodeheaver, was All-Area keeper with her 90 saves, 12 goals allowed and six shut outs. Senior Co-Captain Tiffany Warnick led the team with 20 goals and 4 assists and was named first team All-Area and NHS MVP. She was followed by fellow co-captain Emma Edwards with 12 goals and 5 assists and was named 2nd team All-Area. The Junior Varsity team proved themselves success as well, with a 4-2-1 record.

Alexis Bagley, 12, Kendra Friend, 11, and Hannah Bosley, 12, get down and ready to receive the ball. They will then pass the ball to the setter, so the hitters can score.

Madison Rush, 12, passes the ball up to the setter so she can set the hitters. Madison had the highest percentage of aces this year, demonstrating her commitment to the success of the team.

As teammates watch, Kendra Friend, 11, prepares to spike the ball. Kendra was an outside hitter.

Erin Baechtel, 12, and Kayley Sisler, 10, are down and ready for the opponent to serve the ball.

Andrea House, 11, sets the ball to try and get a kill on Calvary. Andrea set the rightside hitter.

Samantha Kennell, 10, sets the rightside hitter, so they can score a point against the opponent.

Kayley Sisler, 10, jumps up to hit the ball and score against Calvary. Kayley is an outside hitter.

Shoutout!

What is your favorite memory from playing volleyball and why?

Zachary Miller, 9, is in position to roll the ball down the court in attempt to get the ball as close as he can to the pallino. Zachary decided to play Bocce because he "likes to hang out with [his] team."

Brooke Rishel, 10, is in her stance ready to roll the ball and score points for her team. Brooke said, "What I enjoy most about Bocce is playing games and spending time with my teammates. It's a lot of fun."

Ashton Chapman, 12, serves the ball to her opponent in hopes of scoring against her. A good serve is an excellent way to score needed points in a match.

Bethany Hershberger, 11, smiles for the camera after a practice. Tennis is a mental game and keeping a positive attitude is very important.

Bethany Hershberger, 11, rolls the ball down the court to score for the Northern Bocce team. Bethany has played Bocce for three years.

Miranda Fisher, 12, attempts to help her team by scoring points in her first year of playing Bocce.

Ashton Chapman, 12, examines the net because it appears to be at the wrong height. Net height is important to ensure fairness in the match.

What is your favorite thing about playing Bocce?

My favorite thing about playing Bocce is competing with Brooke and Zack. I like being their teammate because they are always so happy and full of life and energy. Everyone is always so happy, win or lose.

According to Coach Wengerd "Unified Sports are all about meeting and overcoming the challenges that allow students the opportunity to participate in extracurricular activities."

Unified Tennis: Ashton Chapman was the only player who participated in Unified Tennis this year. Bethany and Justin Hershberger were assistants who practiced and prepared Ashton for game play. Because of this, Ashton joined forces with Southern's team.

Unified Bocce: According to Coach Dewitt, Player highlights include the following:

- Delaney Friend and Michaela Vitez making last second throws for victories
- Zachary Miller's steady constant throws
- Ryan Weimer's outstanding play and leadership abilities
- Tiffany Warnick's fourth year of excellent play

What made the season unique?
Having two teams was a first at NHS. Both played very well. The Gold Team included our "tough-luck" players as they lost three games by only one point.

Jordan Sherbin, 10, shoots to score points against Fort Hill. Even after four years of basketball, he says, before a game, he feels "excited and nervous."

Kyle Klotz, 12, jumps to score points for his team. As a basketball player of twelve years, his advice for younger players is "don't get down on yourself if you make a mistake; just learn from it."

Austin Evans, 11, focuses on the basket as he goes for a foul shot. He says, "The basketball team has grown because we have learned a lot."

During a time out, the coach gets to say a few things to the team, which gets them pumped-up and ready to win.

Elliott Schilpp, 9, gets ready to pass the ball. He says, "we've all developed as basketball players, but there is still more to be done."

Calyb King, 11, jumps for a basket. He says, "I get nervous before every game."

Peyton Carr, 9, runs down the court for a shot. He says the thing that makes basketball hard is "the competition you play against."

Shoutout!

What are the most memorable moments of your basketball career?

Coach Opel says, "This season was unique because it was a transition year, with a new coaching staff taking over. The players all had to adapt to that change, which meant a change in the way we did everything. They all adapted very well and all bought into what we, as staff, were trying to accomplish."

Player Highlights:

- Calyb King hit a three-pointer at the buzzer to beat Clear Springs.
- Colton Houser came off the bench at Southern and hit a three-pointer with under 30 seconds left.
- Cody Diegert hit another one with under two seconds left to steal victory over Southern.

Season Highlights include:

- beating Clear Spring with a three-pointer at the buzzer.
- sweeping the regular season series with Southern. That hadn't happened since 1968.

Highlight of the Year:

- We beat Southern during their own overtime. 131

Bailee Upole, 9, jumps for a shot in the game against Fort Hill. The JV team won against Fort Hill with an ending score of 34-17.

Jackie Chapman, 12, adjusts and gets ready to make a shot for the basket. Jackie earned one point in the game against Hancock.

McKenna Houser, 9, surrounded by opponents, struggles to break free. McKenna earned thirteen points against the Fort Hill Sentinels.

Jenna Yommer, 10, dribbles the ball down the court, so she can pass the ball to her teammates in the fight against the Allegany Campers.

Kyndal Rayner, 10, jumps up and attempts to score against Fort Hill. Kyndal earned three points against Fort Hill.

Mikayla Wilt, 9, makes a basket against Fort Hill. Mikayla earned eight points this game.

Shoutout!

What was the most challenging thing about being team captain and why?

- Being team captain meant that I was responsible for making sure my team brought 110% effort on and off the court. This was difficult when one of my teammates was having a rough game. I did love the job of being a team captain because my teammates looked up to me for support, and I gladly gave it to them.

According to Coach Carr, "a varsity season highlight was winning the Sub-Region Championship and playing in the "final eight" in the state. Aaron Rodeheaver tied the single season hits total with 35. A JV season highlight was beating Southern both times and knocking off Ft. Hill who had beaten us earlier and had only lost one game. We ended the season one win short of the most wins by a JV team.

This season was exciting because of the way both teams finished strong.

Challenges: The weather made it very challenging because of being inside for practice so much and not getting to play all of our games.

Our toughest losses for the Varsity were the three, one-run losses to Allegany and Mt. Ridge. JV was the one loss at Allegany.

According to Coach Hauser, "the record was 12-8, the first record over 500 since 2013.

Some season highlights were big power numbers at the plate. As a team we hit 11 home runs, 15 triples, and 27 doubles, totaled 194 hits and scored 158 runs. We had 5 different players hit homeruns: Sarah Holtschneider, Morgan Rush (2), Carley Rodeheaver (3), Mikayla Wilt (3), and McKenna Houser (2). We beat Ft. Hill to make it to the second round of playoffs where we lost to Allegany 5-4.

Some big turning points in our season were Morgan Rush's game winning RBI triple in the first game against Allegany, and McKenna Houser's three-run home run in the Ft. Hill playoff game to tie the score at 7 late in the game.

Challenges: Our biggest challenge was staying healthy; we started the season with four players with Mononucleosis."

Christopher, we wish you the STRENGTH to face challenges with confidence along with the WISDOM to choose your battles carefully. We wish you ADVENTURE on your journey and may you always stop to HELP someone along the way. Listen to your HEART and take risks carefully. Remember how much you are LOVED. WE are so PROUD of YOU.

Love, Dad & Mom

Bradley, the world is yours to take with your "It's ALL ok" attitude. You're never alone. Love you! -Your family

Justin, you make this world a better place. We are proud of you and can't wait to see what's next. We love you lots! -Your family

*Congratulations,
Adam! We love you and we are very proud of you!
Looking forward to sharing your life long journeys. Good Luck

*Congratulations, Nicholas!
You will always be our little boy! We have loved and enjoyed every minute watching and helping you become the young man you are today. May you always continue to smile and enjoy life.
Wishing you the very best on all your future endeavors.*

Love Mom and Dad

Kylie, from picking "cot" in Grandma's slippers, to your first day of school, and now graduating high school, our "little girl" has become such a smart, beautiful young lady! Congratulations on all your achievements and future endeavors. We love you very much Ky-Bird! Dad, Mom, Connor, Nan and Uncle Jeff

ALEXIS MARIE BAGLEY

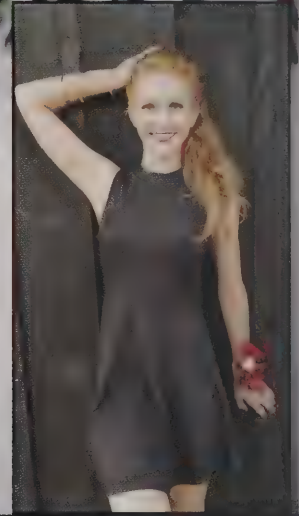

Lex,

May your dreams be bigger than your fear....
May your actions speak louder than your words....
And your love stronger than your hate.

Don't ever lose sense of your wonder...
Be the change you want to see in this world!

- Always remember you are loved -
Family is forever,
We love you!

Dad, Mom, Seth, Karly, Kara & Kate

Brysan,
Sometimes the days go slow, but the years go so fast. One day soon we will wish it all back.
Brysan, you are BRAVER than you believe, STRONGER than you seem, SMARTER than you think, and LOVED more than you will ever know!
So go confidently in the direction of your dreams and live the life you have imagined.

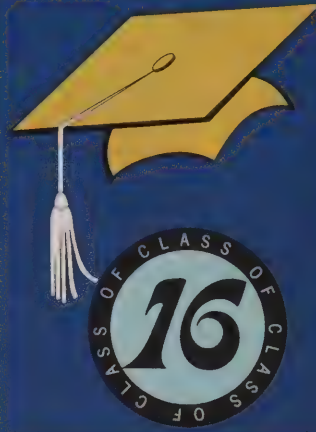

All our love, Mom, Dad, Dylan, and Jordan

Aaliyah Dawn Durst

Relay for Life

Kaley Hare, 11, leads the survivor walk for Relay for Life. In addition to being a fellow student at Northern, she is a cancer survivor as well.

Sarah Holtschneider, 12, and McKenna Fazenbaker, 11, put together the "Hope Board." This lists people's names who have sponsored Relay for Life or have had a family member with cancer or have lost a family member to cancer.

Grand Total Raised: Over $48,000

Tessa Gardner, 11, and Gracie Metts, 9, pose in front of the Hope cutout. "Hope" is one of Relay for Life's biggest and most well-known slogans.

Bethany Hershberger, 11, Abby Burdock, 11, Natalie Manges, 11, Claudia Rieve, 11, and Emily Frazee, 9, work the sign up table for luminarias.

Katie Hyland, 11, enjoys showing her skills at corn hole. Many activities were offered at the event, but corn hole was one of the favorites.
